was good. The only problem all along has been a health issue I have had to deal with for over a year. I am now looking at having major surgery on February 26th, 2001. But I felt good about this, as I believe in the talisman's good fortune. Then this past weekend I was doing laundry and somehow my bracelet got caught on something. opened up and my charm holder and talisman fell off and got lost. I didn't lose the bracelet but the talisman means much more to me. I went crazy again going all over the place looking for it. Now two talismans were lost. I don't feel so fortunate and with surgery only a few weeks away, well.....

I was planning on ordering the figure 8 charm holders for some other charms and pendants I own to add them to the bracelet but now I am very upset about losing the talisman. Will the figure 8 charm holders fit on the links of the bracelet I purchased? This way I can get another talisman and wear it. But they are not cheap and I don't like the fact that they keep getting lost. Any suggestions? I must tell you that, honestly I am afraid to order another talisman for fear of losing it also. So much for good fate & fortune. I still wear my original talisman on a necklace and hopefully nothing will happen to it. I hold on to it in my hand in times of trouble and need. Like I said I might just sound like a crazy lady but now I think I've lost some of my "good luck". Can you help me?

Yours truly,

KATHY
